STATE'S WITNESSES ATTACKED.

Defense in Mrs. George's Trial Trie

to Discredit Them.

CANTON, Ohio, April 20.-The defense in the George trial began today an attack on state witnesses alleged to be addicted to the opium and morphine habit. Dr. Eyman, superintendent of the State Asylum for the Insane at Newburg, testified as an expert, that a person addicted to the use of those drugs loses honor and truthfulness and retains little or no principle, Alva Whipple, P. E. Mook and Mrs. Mook testified to the darkness of the night.

W. B. Dewees, Mrs. Maud Randall and

Joseph A. Leppert testified to burrs grow-ing along the sidewalk next to the house where Mrs. George roomed.

Thomas Shepard, the former janitor, was recalled and testified to having heard Saxton say he would kick Mrs. George out of the block if she did not stay out.

S. S. Kauffmann, cashier of the City National Bank testified to issuing drafts to

S. S. Kauffmann, cashier of the City National Bank, testified to issuing drafts to Saxton to the amount of about $500, which were cashed in South Dakota either by Mrs. George or others for her.

The defense demanded the attendance of Mrs. M. C. Barber, Saxton's sister, in court this afternoon, with papers and correspondence. A messenger has been sent for her. During the examination Mr. Pomerers announced that Mrs. George was looking at a witness and shaking her head at him; also that she did the same thing yesterday. The statement was stricken from the records.

Late Testimony Yesterday Afternoon

Among the witnesses for the defense who testified late yesterday afternoon were Mrs. Lena Lindeman, who took care of Saxton's room. She testified that Mrs.

George often visited her, and that on the day of the murder she was at her house from early in the afternoon until 5:30 in the from early in the afternoon until 5:30 in the evening. The place is over a mile from where Mrs. George was said to have been at 5:35, and over two miles from the scene of the killing, which occurred about 6 o'clock. Mrs. George told her she loved Saxton and expected to marry him within a few days. She was in good spirits and seemed to be happy always as she talked about Saxton.

The witness said Mrs. George had called her attention to the dress she wore, which had been made over, and which Mrs. George said she was going to give to the witness as said she was going to give to the witness as soon as she married Saxton. The witness examined the dress closely, feeling of the material, and how closely it fit Mrs. George, the examination being such that had there been a revolver about it she must have found it. She said that Mrs. George several times went into the back yard, which was full of Spanish needles and burdock burrs.

Cross-examination did not shake Mrs. Lindeman's story. She was not allowed to testify as to Saxton's possession of a re-

The center for the distribution of coal and coke for Germany and Switzerland, at present, is Mannheim, on the Rhine, where, in a free zone, large wharves are established with modern facilities for handling it economically.

The low freight rates of the railways can not compete with those of the enormous freight barges that ply upon the Rhine. One of these barges will hold 3,500 tons, equaling in capacity 175 German railroad freight cars, and three or four of these barges are moved together by a tug.

This perfect waterway, accessible from Rotterdam, where the barges are loaded directly from the transatlantic steamers, is of the greatest importance in solving the possibility of introducing American mine products into Switzerland. JURY RENDERS A VERDICT. Body Found at Rider's Castle Subjec of Inquiry. The jury summoned by Coroner Carr to evestigate the cause of the death of the woman, whose skeleton was found in a coal vault at Rider's Castle about a week ago met today at the sixth precinct station and heard evidence in the case. There was nothing told that has not already appeared n The Star. The jury rendered a verdict "that the said unknown colored woman had come to ner death in a manner to them unknown. We believe from the evidence that she died about October, 1898, but in spite of the vigorous efforts on the part of the police, detectives and others, no evidence has been obtained as to the manner of her death or of the person or persons who may have been responsible therefor, or who caused her illegal interment in the ashes where the remains were found. "No woman of her description is missing and we believe it most possible that this woman ded a natural death; was disinterred by grave robbers, with the intent to transfer her body to some other city. They became alarmed in some way and disposed of her body as has been stated."

SUIT OVER INSURANCE.

Mary E. Celabert Against American Legion of Honor. Hearing was in progress today before Chief Justice Bingham and a jury, in Circuit Court No. 1, of the suit at law insti-volver.

Dr. Douglas Schwartz and Charles R.

Frazer said the night of the killing was intensely dark. The latter said also that Mrs. Eckroate, the eye-witness, had consulted with him about taking a cure for tuted by Mary E. Gelabert against the American Legion of Honor. The object of the suit is to recover $3,000 on a life insurance policy. It is alleged that a sister of the plaintiff, named Nellie Potter, became a policy holder for $3,000 in the American Legion of Honor, with the plaintiff as tempted to break the fire alarm box at the her beneficiary. The policy was taken out June 7, 1897, it is stated. One week thereafter Miss Potter was taken ill, according to the allegation, and died July 22, 1897, of typhoid fever. The defense, it is understood, will endeavor to prove that Miss Potter died of consumption, and that at the time of ap-plying for the insurance policy the facts as regards her condition were misrepresented to the defendant.
